Just What the Doctor Ordered

Some years ago, a doctor called in his staff to tell them of a medical experiment he wanted to conduct in his clinic. All their patients were to be treated with massive doses of kindness, care, and concern. As he expected he discovered that this love that was shown was conducive to healing. The amount of days that his patients were spending in bed were cut in half.

Did you know that the Bible has been telling us all along how important love is? In fact, it even tells us that God is love. God's love is something we can all have and we can all give away. Whether rich or poor, tall or small, old or young God wants us to share in His love. When you give someone, the gift of love you give them something that is divine. May we love one another today more than we did yesterday, and every day we have the breath of life.

Mark T. Tonkery

Improvement Requires Focus

Warren Buffett reads all day to build the knowledge necessary for his investments. Stephen King writes 1000 words a day, 365 days a year. Athlete Eliud Kipchoge makes notes after each training session to establish areas that can be improved. Habits, repeated hundreds of times over years, are powerful. The benefits of these non-negotiable actions compound and lead to extraordinary achievements. Read your Bible daily. Do something positive daily. Pray consistently. Teach someone the gospel each week.
